

Galatians 5:13-14, 16-21

You, my brothers, were called to be free. But do not use your freedom to indulge the sinful nature; rather, serve one another in love. The entire law is summed up in a single command:
"Love your neighbor as yourself."

So I say, live by the Spirit, and you will not gratify the desires of the sinful nature. For the sinful nature desires what is contrary to the Spirit, and the Spirit what is contrary to the sinful nature. They are in conflict with each other, so that you do not do what you want. But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under law. The acts of the sinful nature are obvious: sexual immorality, impurity and debauchery; idolatry and witchcraft; hatred, discord, jealousy, fits of rage, selfish ambition, dissensions, factions and envy; drunkenness, orgies, and the like. I warn you, as I did before, that those who live like this will not inherit the kingdom of God.

The Power of Human Nature

A photograph of a group of people at a party, likely in a bathroom or locker room, holding up cans in a toast. The scene is crowded and energetic, with many people's arms raised. The background shows tiled walls and a mirror. The word "Carousing" is overlaid in large white text across the center of the image.

Carousing

“I warn you, as I did before, that those who live like this will not inherit the kingdom of God.”

– Galatians 5:21

But

“...(but) the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control. Against such things there is no law. Those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the sinful nature with its passions and desires. Since we live by the Spirit, let us keep in step with the Spirit. Let us not become conceited, provoking and envying each other.”

— Galatians 5:22–26
